

Great

Value - Great value, you never know everything and can always improve over current skills and behaviors.

I Estimate that I will have far more positive results in the field by using the processes we practiced and applying them to real world situations, where before this training I keep ending up in the ditch and too quick to "give up". I absolutely feel that my customers will not have such an easy time with me as before.

Greg Keesel