To whom it may concern,

This has been such a wonderful experience for me, Dennis Parker has been a great speaker & motivator. My skills were placed in a situation that it is challenged if it has what it takes to be successful for my task. With his teachings and foresight, it has opened my eyes in a different perspective and I could say that I am now a better person compared to when I first stepped in his class.

I definitely recommend Mr. Parker for enrichment and motivation for whatever you may use it for.
